This past October, local dentist, Robert S. Shandrick, DMD, FAGD, was awarded the coveted Fellowship status at the premier post graduate learning center for dentistry, the Las Vegas Institute for Advanced Dental Studies (LVI), in Nevada.

The Las Vegas Institute (LVI) is a state-of-the-art, 62,000sq. foot, lecture, research, and live-patient treatment teaching facility for dentists. Thousands of dentists from the U.S., Canada, Australia, Europe, Japan, China, and around the world, attend LVI to improve and enhance their skills in dentistry. In addition to its recognition for perhaps the best post-graduate education in cosmetic dentistry, LVI's ever expanding curriculum includes adhesive restorative dentistry, orthodontics, implants, endodontics, occlusion and Neuromuscular Dentistry, TMJ treatment, and laser dentistry, to mention a few. The over 80 clinical instructors and faculty at LVI, are some of the best cosmetic dentists in the U.S and Canada.

Dr. Shandrick's fellowship training at LVI, included over 300 hours of lecture, hands-on, and live patient treatment. Fellowship level requirement encompasses successful completion of 7 core curriculum course levels, in cosmetic, restorative, and neuromuscular dentistry, including highest core level, "Full Mouth Reconstruction", in which Shandrick restored a patient's entire dentition cosmetically and functionally, to an ideal physiologic state, in two comprehensive appointments. To complete Fellowship requirements, Shandrick along with dentists from around the globe, passed the written Fellowship exam, testing understanding in areas such as Neuromuscular dentistry, adhesion dentistry, TMJ dysfunction, laser, restorative dentistry, anatomy and physiology, and cosmetic dentistry.

Dr. Shandrick currently holds a Fellowship with The Academy of General Dentistry as well, and maintains a private practice at Shandrick Dental Care Studios, in Sugarloaf PA.
